

Michael Kiss

Director of Complex Security Solutions,
Asia, Middle East & Africa, BT

Michael has over 16 years of experience in IT specializing in Information Security for the past 14 years. Currently the Director of BTs Complex Security Solutions across Asia, Middle East and Africa, Michael's primary focus is on Cyber Strategy and National Cyber initiatives.

Prior to joining BT Michael held a Global role with FireEye working with Governments and major organisations to develop advanced threat mitigation programmes and FireEye's consulting partner strategy across APJ.

Michael had previously worked with multi-national IT and communications providers such as Verizon Communications and Telstra and with a strong focus on Finance, Resource and Government sectors having collaborated on some of the largest information security projects executed across the region.

Michael continues to work closely with partner organisations and industry experts and is actively developing National Cyber Defence programmes on the forefront of what is possible today.